Urgent Appeal On Behalf of Stricken Vermont

Governor of Vermont Appeals To President Coolidge and Red Cross—Cold Weather Gives Added Force To Appeal—Estimates of Actual Losses Worthless.

Boston, Nov. 10 (AP).—President Coolidge and the Red Cross today had before them an urgent appeal on behalf of flood-stricken Vermont from John E. Weeks, governor of the state.

Deeply impressed by the magnitude of the catastrophe which overwhelmed many parts of the commonwealth, the governor declared the situation was so critical that immediate aid was absolutely imperative.

Cold weather, which seems to have set in earnest, gave added force to his appeal, as relief workers struggled over snow-covered roads to bring food and medicine to the isolated communities of the far north.

The governor's declaration set at rest rumors that Vermont considered outside aid unnecessary and brought to the rest of the country a realization of the seriousness of conditions there.

Contributions will be received by the Red Cross or by the governor, by whom they will be turned over to the former organization, which in cooperation with the army and local town and city governments, has undertaken the chief work of relief.

From Washington, D. C., came word that the national treasury of the society had appropriated $75,000 to be used in Vermont and that voluntary donations of another $27,000 had been received.

It was pointed out that these sums were not to be considered indicative of the total money to be expended but would serve to get the organization's program under way.

The money will go to meet immediate needs including rebuilding and repairing of homes, furnishing of houses, rendering of medical aid and rehabilitation of small business where the livelihood of individuals was involved. Farms as well as village homes will be assisted.

Estimates of actual loss to the flood-swept area, including parts of New Hampshire, western Massachusetts and Connecticut as well as Vermont, are still necessarily so vague as to be worthless, but that it will reach far into the millions is generally conceded.

Farmers in Vermont were described by Thomas Bradley, director of the extension bureau of the Vermont agricultural college, "as too crushed to carry on." He estimated 15,000 cows alone had been lost beside great quantities of other stock and in some cases every building on the farm.

Governor Spaulding of New Hampshire put the damage to state highways and bridges at $2,700,000 with no attempt to estimate loss to railroads and private property owners.

Vermont railroads pressed their reconstruction efforts but there was little mileage that could be operated with safety. Stories were told of station agents on the Central Vermont who labored to dig their posts of many feet of silt but the most optimistic estimates were that parts of that line would not be in operation for three months.

At Keokuk, in charge for the Red Cross of work in Massachusetts, reported that some sections of Springfield would probably not be dry for a week and that refugees were not being allowed to return to their homes without approval of health authorities.

Homeless at Springfield. He estimated the number of homeless there to be between 2,400 and 4,000. At Chicopee, 500 persons were affected and there were three cases of scarlet fever. A similar number were homeless at Northampton and many buildings were damaged and livestock lost.

The situation in Connecticut was clearing although the main highway from Middletown to Hartford was still impassable. The river has receded six feet and is still going down.

At Manchester, N. H., police rounded up 200 unemployed men who were recruited to the Boston and Maine labor gangs working to restore the right of way through New Hampshire and Vermont.

Farther north in the same state, 900 Dartmouth College students volunteers took a day off from studies to help clear away flood debris at Hartford.

In western Massachusetts, Lieutenant Governor Frank G. Allen, completing a tour of the storm area, said the state expected to spend $300,000 in highway reconstruction and other works there.

AUTHORITY ON APPLIED MECHANICS IS DEAD
New York, Nov. 10 (AP).—George E. Benjamin, lawyer and authority on applied mechanics, died today after a month's illness, aged 75. His father, the late Park Benjamin, was a noted patent lawyer.

Mr. Benjamin was a graduate of Union College and of the Albany Medical College. He practiced medicine in Albany for four years but turned to the law and was admitted to the bar. In recent years he devoted most of his time to the legal aspects of engineering. At one time he was editor of the National Cyclopaedia of Applied Mechanics.

Smith Backers Are Encouraged In Various Towns

Declare Election Results Has Served To Increase His Prestige—No Comment on Defeat of Anti-Saloon League.

Washington, Nov. 10 (AP).—Political leaders backing the presidential candidacy of Governor Smith of New York drew much encouragement today from Tuesday's overwhelming Democratic victory at the polls of that state.

Pointing to the fact that of nine proposed constitutional amendments, the one opposed by the governor was decisively defeated and the other eight, which had his approval, were adopted by large majorities, his friends looked upon the outcome as a personal victory for their presidential choice.

Even among his opponents, it was conceded that the election had served to increase his prestige. The latter group, however, was generally inclined to reserve judgment and await developments.

The downfall of the Anti-Saloon League in Ohio, although creating some surprise, aroused no comment, while the generally expected success of the Vireo organization at Philadelphia was regarded in many quarters as having no effect upon the question of seating Senator-elect William S. Vare, in spite of a statement from James M. Beck, elected a member of the House, who said the election showed "the people of Philadelphia were not in sympathy with the attempt to deprive" Vare of a place in the upper chamber of Congress.

The fairness of Tuesday's election, he declared, was beyond dispute and should end "the irresponsible attacks on the senatorial election." Vare should be refused a seat, Beck held, "a basic covenant of the compact between the states, which resulted in the Constitution of the United States, would be violated."

352 Farm Bureau Members Renew
The "Renew by Mail" campaign which the Farm Bureau has been conducting this fall has seemingly met with the approval of the majority of the members. To date 352 have renewed by mail with indications that the number will increase to 400. Manager Wigsten reports a heavy receipt of dues over the past week end. In his opinion renewing by mail is coming to be the popular method for Ulster county farmers to join up each year. The material savings in time and money which this method allows for is of considerable value to the organization.

While it has been decided to continue the "pay by mail" plan for renewal of Farm Bureau memberships as long as any receipts come in, the bulk of the campaign efforts will center on a farm-to-farm canvass during the remainder of the month. With the county divided by communities and the communities into districts, and with leaders in charge of each division, a systematic and thorough canvass will be made. Committees in each community have been assigned certain days to work and territories to cover, and the working with canvassers will push things rapidly along to completion. The great success of the "renew by mail" plan materially lessened the work for canvassers in signing up old members. This leaves them with more time and energy to obtain new members. All indications point toward an increased membership over 1927. Already in point of membership, Ulster county should take an even higher position in the state this year.

Will Re-Wed on His Death Bed
Camden, N. J., Nov. 10 (AP).—On what physicians say is his death bed, John R. Keen, retired Delaware river ferryboat captain, will be re-wed today to his former wife after a separation of twenty years.

A marriage license was issued yesterday to Keen, who is 69, and his bride to be, Mrs. Emma Halbert, 35, who is ill with pneumonia and physicians say he can only live several days, but the former skipper declares "I can die happy, anyway."

Mrs. Halbert's second husband, whom she married after being divorced from Keen, died eleven years ago. She has been caring for Keen at her home since he was taken ill several months ago.

Davis Has 3,752, Geroldsek 2,603
According to the unofficial returns of the vote polled Tuesday Assemblyman Millard Davis was re-elected by a majority of 2,752 in Ulster county. Walter G. Geroldsek's majority for county clerk over his Democratic opponent, Eugene B. Carey, was 2,463.

The total vote cast was:
For Assemblyman: 15,153
For County Clerk: 14,492

Walter G. Geroldsek: 17,711
Eugene B. Carey: 15,103

Keller instituted a search for him and also notified Police Captain A. W. Richter of Sangeries, who made an investigation without result.

Few Roadside Thieves Escaped

Motorists Mostly Responsible. In the cases of poultry thefts carried off by professional chicken thieves, passing motorists have been responsible for most of the complaints. Their plundering on the way from potatoes to watermelon. Truck gardens have been robbed of all kinds of vegetables and orchards have been the special object of attack.

In consequence of the cooperation between the farmers' vigilance committee and the state police, this form of larceny has been lessened greatly. From November 1, 1926, to November 1 of this year, there were only 176 cases reported throughout the state by the troopers as compared with more than four hundred in the preceding 12 months. The troopers besides prosecuting the offenders, have tried by a campaign of education to impress the delinquent motorists with the real injury they are inflicting upon the farmers by stealing the produce upon which farm profits depend.

As a rule, the pilfering has been in small quantities, although cases have been reported to the state police where four or five men have stopped at a farm in the absence of the owner and driven away after loading their cars to capacity.

Dannemora Jail Break Thwarted
Authorities Discover Pistols, Ammunition and Liquor—Prisoner, Alleged Squatter, Stabbed by Kramer.

New York, Nov. 10 (AP).—The plot of a group of long-term prisoners, members of the Richard Reese Whitehouse gang of jewel thieves, to shoot their way to freedom has been thwarted by officials of the Clinton state prison at Dannemora, prison officials said here today.

Authorities asserted the scheme was halted through a tip from a prisoner, later reported stabbed by Kramer, a prisoner, supposed head of the group planning the prison break and who is serving a forty-year sentence. Kramer was a pal of Whitehouse, who was executed February 2, 1926, in Baltimore for robbery and murder.

Six pistols, two hundred rounds of ammunition, six bottles of liquor and several road maps of the Adirondack region in which the prison is situated, have been discovered by the authorities.

Extra guards have been stationed at the prison and numerous transfers of prisoners have been effected, since the discovery of the plot and its ramifications inside and outside the jail.

Dr. Raymond C. Kleb, commissioner of correction, said that the seizures were made in the receiving room, and that it was thought the prisoners planning the delivery hoped to get aid from working in the industrial department. For this reason a new personnel had been assigned.

The stabbing of the man mentioned as the "squealer" took place in the exercise yard, where, it is alleged, Kramer set upon the prisoner with a knife fashioned out of a spoon. Kramer was subdued by guards after a fight.

Dr. Kleb said that one of his men was conducting a complete investigation at Dannemora.

Describes Plan of Rural Libraries

Cornell Professor Tells How Country People Can Have Use of Books at Small Cost.

Worcester, N. Y., Nov. 10.—"Sixty-one per cent of the population of rural counties in New York state are without library service, and in some the proportion without even service runs as high as seventy-five per cent," according to Professor H. A. Felton of the New York State College of Agriculture at Ithaca, speaking before a meeting of librarians and others interested in rural problems here today, when he strongly supported what he called the county library plan for supplying rural people with good books to read.

"The counties that lead in library service are those which have large cities including Albany, Oneida, Erie, Herkimer, Monroe, Niagara, Onondaga, Rensselaer, Richmond, Schoenectady, Westchester, and those in New York city. Those with the poorest or least service of this kind are, as a rule, rural counties and include Delaware, Hamilton, Lewis, Madison, Orleans, Putnam, Schoharie, Sullivan and Yates."

In describing the plan he suggested that the county board of supervisors contract with one of the large libraries, perhaps the one at the county seat, for county-wide service. He said a small tax of eight to ten cents per capita usually makes an appropriation of $5,000 which soon will provide a county librarian, usually a woman, her travel expenses, and some additional expenses for books and equipment. He pointed out that the state will loan several thousand volumes to a county with which to start the plan.

Use Local Stores.
"A good way to handle the books so they will be accessible to the rural people is to establish a depository in a store or other local place in each village and in each school house in the county. The supply of books in such places should be changed about every three months."

Professor Felton suggested that granges, parent-teacher's associations, federations of women's clubs, and home bureaus in each county might appoint a joint committee to cooperate in developing a county library plan. He commended the plan in operation in Chemung county where the board of supervisors contracts with the State Memorial Library to furnish books for every rural neighborhood in the entire county.

Preference for ESSEX almost 2 to 1

In outselling any other "Six" at or near the price, almost two to one, the signal thing is not merely the overwhelming preference for the Essex Super-Six, but the source from which it comes.

A great proportion of buyers are owners, former and present, of big and costly cars. They turn to Essex because they find:

- The smoothness and performance of their costlier cars.
- Comfort and riding ease not excelled in any car.
- The roominess and relaxation of their larger cars.
- Traffic nimbleness and handling ease unmatched in larger cars.
- Economy of operation and maintenance exclusive to Essex.

Engineered to long life, lasting reliability and lowest operation and maintenance costs, it represents the greatest value in all Essex

An Excellent Foil for Jewels In Evening Dress

A softly draped, simply made satin evening dress is an excellent foil for jewels, declares a fashion expert in the Woman's Home Companion. Earring, and necklace of pearls and rhinestones and a wide flexible rhinestone bracelet complete the ensemble.

Attractive Raincoats

Brighten Gloomy Day

Ensembles for rainy weather are claiming the attention of many women. No longer is the raincoat a drab, colorless garment, but instead it has attained genuine style value both as to silhouette and color combination. Models for the season include several types of material. The one fabric that is outstanding is made to look like leather with an alligator design worked out in black lines. This material is smooth and shiny, but is entirely pliable, so that it hangs with the same suppleness as any soft cloth. Then, in addition, most of the coats made in this material are fleece-lined, making them very practical for automobile wear or on blustery days when only a sort of wind protector is needed. Another fabric that is being featured at the moment is very shiny at first glance; so much so that one feels it must be transparent, though it is not. For women who prefer very light weight coats—which are especially necessary for wear in town—there are any number of attractive models.

In regard to the styling of the new coats it is sufficient to say that but two silhouettes appear on the horizon. A military coat with an inverted plait in back, straight front sections and mannish treatment of collar, cuffs and sleeves differs but slightly from the other model, made with full flared back, smaller collar and turn-back cuffs.

Since color has played so important a part in the designing of clothes during the past few seasons and continues to be a primary factor in the costumes of the well-dressed woman, raincoats are more colorful than ever. In the alligator finish material, red, green, brown, purple, navy, black and gray are the favored colors. One smart coat made in the gray fabric, with the reptile effect carried out in black, has a convertible collar with facing in black velvet to match the trimming on the pocket flaps.

Wide Brimmed Hats Are Competing With Cloches

There is evidence that the milliners are trying desperately to lure women away from the cloche hats which still dominate the mode. As long as brimless styles persist the cloche cannot be undermined. Therefore, certain milliners say, hats with brims are the thing.

Ripple brims, made without frames or stiffening, are the usual form, although a few shapes have five and six inch brims. These hats have a light foundation.

Both Tight and Large

Full Sleeves in Mode

Like it or not, you probably will wear sleeves next winter, even in Bermuda, Nassau, Florida or southern California. Only the sleeves for those warm climates will be short sleeves. In the North the long, tight sleeve seems destined to remain, as well as the large full sleeve, which is caught at the wrist. The sleeve will be the leading field of a multitude of embroideries.

Changeable Velvets

The variations of velvet are one of the surprises of the winter season. The lustrous new velvets which have a silk pile on a metal ground, and changeable effects which combine colors as well as shades are used by dressmakers of first importance.

INDIAN BATTLE SITE MARKED

Monument Erected on Spot
Where Six Soldiers
Proved Heroism.

Canadian, Texas.—With appropriate ceremony a monument was unveiled a few days ago at Buffalo Wallow, 22 miles southwest of here, to commemorate a battle which took place there 23 years ago between a band of Indians and a scouting party of United States soldiers.

One of the most notable of those present to pay tribute to the heroes of more than one-half century ago was Mrs. Olive K. Dixon of Miami, Texas, widow of Billy Dixon, who took a leading part in the historic fight.

Tells of Tragedy.

Mrs. Dixon gave an account of the tragedy of the plains, as follows: "The battle of Buffalo Wallow occurred on September 12, 1874, when the six men, who comprised a scouting party, were surrounded by Indians. All of the men were injured before they reached the protection of the wallow, one of them fatally. All received the Congressional Medal of Honor, said to be the only time in history when all participants in a battle were thus rewarded.

"Members of the trapped party were William Dixon and Amos Chapman, scouts; Sergt. Z. T. Woodall and Privates Peter Rath, John Harrington and George W. Smith. Smith was killed. None of the others is living now.

"The party of six men were surprised and surrounded by a band of 125 Kiowa and Comanche Indians, fully armed and on the warpath. They were held here for more than 48 hours.

"From dawn to four o'clock in the afternoon they fought, first on the little hillside and later in a buffalo wallow caused from the buffalo wallowing in the soft earth.

"At the first attack all were struck. Dixon and Rath were only slightly wounded. Woodall and Harrington were wounded, but not so seriously that they could not walk. The horses stampeded, carrying with them the canteens, haversacks, blankets and coats.

"All that hot summer day the Indians circled and dashed past this little band of white men, yelling and cutting all kinds of capers. All morning they had been without water, and they were sorely in need of it. The Indians had settled down to a siege that they felt would end victorious for them. Undoubtedly their plans would have worked out successfully had it not been for the intervention of a power higher than theirs.

Salvation in Rain Storm.

"About three o'clock a black cloud came up in the west and in a short time rain fell in blinding sheets.

"Indians dislike rain, especially cold rain, and these Kiowas and Comanches were no exception to the rule. "Early the morning of the second day Billy Dixon started for help. He had not gone over a mile when he struck the main trail leading to Fort Supply. Hurrying along as fast as possible he caught sight of an outfit that covered about an acre of ground. This proved to be a detachment under command of Maj. R. Price of the Eighth United States cavalry from Fort Wingate, N. M., on its way to join General Miles' command.

"Major Price rode over to where the wounded men were, taking his surgeon with him, where the latter examined their wounds. The soldiers in the command turned over a few pieces of hard tack and some dried beef which they had tied behind their saddles.

"Of the six men who fought at Buffalo Wallow, not one is living today. Amos Chapman of Selting, Okla., was the last one to go. He died in July, 1925."

Judge Impounds Coed's Car Till After Game

San Francisco.—Because Peggy Bennett, nineteen, drove her automobile 33 miles an hour through a 15-mile zone on the University of California campus, she will have to obtain other means of transportation to the Stanford-California football game November 19. Judge Harry Pulcifer in Oakland ordered the girl's car impounded until November 25.

"Please, judge, make it November 19, because I need the car to go to Stanford for the big game," pleaded Miss Bennett.

"Well, it's just too bad, but November 25 stands," ruled Judge Pulcifer.

Workers Find Roman Relics in Brook Bed

Budapest, Hungary.—Workmen deepening a brook in the neighborhood of Sopron have come upon a large quantity of Roman relics. They comprise coins and weapons, such as swords, lances, spears and amulets and other household articles. It was thought the long-sought-for grave of Atilla, the famous leader of the Huns, had been unearthed, as tradition has it that the chieftain's grave is somewhere in the neighborhood of the village of Agfalva in this region.

Many Uses for Wood

There are said to be approximately 4,000 uses for wood in the United States. This is judged to be indicative of the fact that wood will always be used in industry.

Not a Happy Laugh

A sardonic laugh is a forced, artificial, sneering, mocking laugh. The word "sardonic" is derived from Sardinia, an island in the Mediterranean. It was said by the ancients that a plant grew in Sardinia which screwed up the face of a person who ate it and made him appear to laugh when he had no such feelings. According to another version of the myth, those who ate of the Sardinian plant died laughing.—Exchange.

Sour food causes Bad Breath

The digestive system is a very important part of the body. It is the source of the food that we eat. If it is not working properly, it can cause bad breath. This is because the food that is not properly digested can produce a foul odor. This odor can be very embarrassing. To avoid this, it is important to eat a healthy diet and to keep your digestive system in good health. Chamberlain's Tablets can help you do this. They are a gentle laxative that helps to move the food through the digestive system. This helps to prevent bad breath and other digestive problems. Chamberlain's Tablets are available at most drug stores.

Not Poetic Fantasy

Carcassonne is an actual city, situated on the canal of the Midi in southern France, so the immortal poem is not entirely fanciful. The Midi is one of the most beautiful of the waterways of France, over 100 miles being lined with magnificent trees. Carcassonne boasts a fortress which has stood for 15 centuries.

Valuable Pasture Grass

Bermuda grass is the most important pasture grass of the South, where it shows marked preference for clayey soils. In Virginia and Maryland, where it is more troublesome as a weed than valuable as a forage, it is commonly called wire grass. Bermuda grass is the plant most used for pastures and lawns in the South.

Why Women Join Motor Clubs

Most of Women Joining Motor Clubs for Reasons Identical With Those Offered by Men Who Enroll, A. A. A. Analysis Reveals.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 10.—Each year sees a larger number of women entering the ranks of organized motorism, not merely as drivers of the family car but as owners of their own automobiles, and this fact is reflected annually in a larger proportion of women among the membership of the 575 clubs which make up the American Automobile Association, according to a statement issued from national headquarters of the A. A. A.

"There are many factors to indicate that the woman is going into motoring with the same thoroughness with which she has identified herself with other spheres," says the statement. "Her capacity for making her motoring most effective is indicated, for instance, in the conviction that it is the woman driver who always is responsible for the traffic jam and the near-accident. How many times was this judgment passed in the days when woman was making her first appearance as a motorist? How rarely is it heard today.

As their number has increased and their record for caution and safe driving become generally recognized, the patronizing attitude toward them has passed.

An analysis of records shows that women join motor clubs for much the same reason that men do, with the possible exception that they may place more value initially upon the emergency road service offered, says the statement. The average woman concedes that she does not relish the task of making a roadside repair or even of spending weary hours trying to get into touch with any haphazard agency that will make repairs.

Look to Emergency Service.
That the woman looks relatively far ahead in her motoring is indicated in the fact that she can see the possibility of minor car troubles even when the automobile is new, it is pointed out. "Emphatic evidence is found to substantiate this point in connection with winter motoring," the statement declares. "A. A. A. clubs have enrolled thousands of women members on the strength of the fact that they could count on the club's emergency road service to help them out of all the awkward predicaments which are winter's constant threats—among them, the frozen radiator, the car that will not start, the flat tire, the car that is stuck in the mud, and the countless other difficulties of a similar nature."

"The business woman, just like the business man, uses her car every day in the year. She has grown to depend upon it completely. She wants to be certain of its readiness for use without delay when it is needed. She is not able to overcome difficulties of the character just mentioned with the same ease with which a man will meet them. So, she frankly recognizes her inability and joins the motor club."

Shows Advantages to Family.
Club records show many instances where the woman of the household who owns her car is the one who shows the rest of the family the advantages of motor club membership, the A. A. A. analysis reveals. She joins to take advantage of every phase of its program, its touring bureau, legal department, its insurance, its discounts on various necessities of the motorist, and its generally helpful counsel and assistance on everything pertaining to motordom.

"And, once a member, she makes use of all these features of club service," the statement says. "Using them, she tests and proves their advantages. As a result, clubs have had innumerable experiences where male members of the family have followed the woman's lead and joined their local clubs."

"The woman's attitude toward the motor club may be summed up in the thought that she wants to make her motoring experience as simple and trouble-free as possible, to make it, generally well-rounded, so she joins the club much for the same reason that she joins the parent-teacher association or some similar organization charged with an important civic service."

YES, SIR, BARNUM KNEW HIS FREAKS

Also Know How to Get Them at Small Cost.

Washington.—P. T. Barnum was a great showman and possibly a great educator. At any rate, he knew what he wanted, and a glimpse into one of his methods of getting it at the lowest possible cost is given in the old files of the American consulate at Tampico, Mexico.

Writing to Consul Augustus J. Casford, August 2, 1882, he said: "I desire to carry out as far as possible an idea I have long entertained of forming a collection, in pairs or otherwise, of all the uncivilized races in existence, and my present object is to ask you kindly to render me what assistance is in your power to acquire any specimens of these uncivilized people."

Looking for Freaks.
"My aim is to exhibit to the American public not only human beings of different races but also when practicable those who possess extraordinary peculiarities, such as giants, dwarfs, singular disfigurements . . . dexterity in the use of weapons, dancing, singing, juggling, unusual strength or agility, etc."

"With this object in view I should be glad to receive from you descriptions of as many such specimens as you could obtain and photographs as far as possible, even if it is necessary to send an agent into the interior for the purpose."

"The remuneration of these people in addition to their board and traveling expense is usually nominal. I shall see that they are presented with fancy articles such as are always acceptable and small allowance monthly. If in any case a group of three to six or even ten would be especially novel I should probably take them, but I must study economy inasmuch as I propose to add this 'congress of nations' to the other attractions of our great show without extra charge."

"If interpreters should be absolutely necessary please inform me what would be the cost, which must be moderate."

Willing to Pay.
"For yourself, I should be glad to reimburse you for any proper outlay and to give you a reasonable compensation for the trouble which you may take in this matter."

"If you should meet with any living animals, or reptiles, freaks of nature, or in any sense rare or unusual, I should be glad to receive and to refund to you the cost of a photograph and full description of the same, but inanimate objects I do not desire. As it is my wish to get at least a portion of this collection together by January or February, 1883, I will thank you to favor me with as early a reply as convenient."

It wouldn't do to tell Willie but some of the land's biggest men once faked examinations.

STUDEBAKER'S ERSKINE SIX

(4-door sedan, fully equipped)

victor in test of speed and endurance

American Automobile Association certifies to record unequalled by any stock closed car priced below One Thousand Dollars

NOTWITHSTANDING heavy rain and high wind throughout three-fourths of the test, an Erskine Sedan, fully equipped, traveled 1298.484 miles during twenty-four hours. This meant an average time of 54.103 miles per hour. No stops were made except for oil and fuel and to change three spark plugs. These stops are included in the time. Immediately following the completion of the test the sedan went five miles at an average of almost 62 miles per hour—Think of it!

This record was made October 12-13 at the Atlantic City Speedway under the sanction and observation of the American Automobile Association. After the test the car was torn down by the technical committee and certified as a stock car in every respect.

What it proves!
Here is positive proof of extraordinary performance, of stamina and durability, of sound design from quality materials and superior workmanship in a car priced below $1000—proof of unusual pep and power whether or not you care to drive long distances with the throttle wide open.

What Owners Say!
Owners of the Erskine Six write us so enthusiastically you would think them to be salesmen. Send a postal inquiry to the Studebaker factory at South Bend and you will be sent, free of charge, comments which hundreds of Erskine owners have volunteered concerning their cars.

Make Your Own Test!

So much more vigor

—when the system is cleansed of poisons we all have

DO you know that poisons form all the time in your system? They get into the blood stream and rob you of the vigor, life, youth and energy you should have. Hardly anyone escapes them. Food wastes accumulate and fermentation takes place. As many as 36 of these ever-forming poisons are already known to science.

But nature has provided a natural sort of antidote. In a scientifically pure state this antidote is available to everybody under the trade name of Nujol. Nujol is a unique substance unlike anything else known to man. It cannot be absorbed by the body or any of the organs of the body. At the same time, it has an affinity for body poisons. It takes hold of them, absorbs them, and carries them out of the system safely and harmlessly. It also softens waste matter and brings about normal evacuation of the intestines. Gets rid of poisons, gets rid of food wastes, tends to heal and soothe irritated membranes. Contains no drugs or medicines. Absolutely harmless.

Perfectly by the Chemical Products Division of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey.

Nujol contains no drugs or medicine. It's in a class by itself. You can take it with perfect safety under any conditions. It won't cause gas or griping pains, or affect the stomach or kidneys.

Every corner druggist has Nujol. Make sure you get the genuine. Look for the Nujol bottle with the label on the back that you can read right through the bottle. Don't delay, get Nujol today.

Los Angeles Judge for 5-Year Trial Marriages

Burnell Believes It's the Only Solution of U. S. Divorce Problem

Trial marriage!

Sensational novelists and publicity seekers of a radical nature have often advocated such a system—but when it's urged by a superior court judge, it demands attention.

Judge Charles S. Burnell of Los Angeles has come out flat-footed for the scheme.

He insists that a five-year "trial" term will prevent perjury and "legal subterfuge" in obtaining divorces and "making liars and perjurers out of thousands of persons who want nothing more than to be allowed to continue their lives alone."

His plan is:

Marriage contracted for a period of five years, renewable by mutual consent at the end of that time for a similar period, or—

Terminated at the end of the five-year term by the desire of ONE party or both, and terminated during a five-year period only because of statutory transgression or extreme cruelty.

Judge Charles S. Burnell (International Illustrated News)

If a couple, desiring to separate at the end of five years, has children or has amassed property, these questions would be settled by court decision.

Has Judge Burnell solved the problem?

LAST NIGHT on the RADIO

After the blanket lifted, which was not until after 9 o'clock, reception was good on Wednesday evening. During the blanketing period a very unusual condition existed with powerful nearby stations giving very weak signals and DX stations coming through as usual. Detroit, Chicago, Cincinnati, Atlanta, Nashville, Cleveland and other distant points were fully as loud as New York and Schenectady during this period.

WKQB should be handing the leather medal for advertising. It advertises shoes, ice cream, tobacco, cigars, cigarettes, candy, cake, pie and other articles too numerous to mention. Taking the evening as a whole, it was a pretty good night for ice cream advertising and numerous stations sang the praises of a favorite brand, presumably at so much per note.

The blanketing condition referred to seems often to be local and confined to very restricted areas. When it exists on one block there will be none of it on the next block. There seems to be a temporary shielding of a small area, without any noises to indicate the nature of the interference. This condition often explains the difference in reception experienced by fans in various parts of the city. Both strong reception and blanketing are reported as having occurred Wednesday evening.

Willem Mengelberg, conductor of the New York Philharmonic Orchestra, with a special symphony orchestra of forty-seven pieces, will open the second broadcast program of the General Motors "Family Party" on Monday evening, November 11, at 8:30 eastern standard time. Louis Gruenberg, noted French-Canaudian concert soloist, will sing a group of three selections in this popular-classic period of entertainment. Two old-time favorites appear in the vaudeville section of the hour in the persons of "Judge" Walter C. Kelley and Marie Cabell. The third period of the hour will be devoted to popular music by Goldman's band, led by Edwin Franko Goldman in person.

ARTILLERY PRACTICE TO BE DISCONTINUED

Artillery practice across the Storm King Highway at West Point will be discontinued under the terms of an approval by Secretary of War Davis Wednesday of a recommendation of the superintendent of the United States Military Academy.

Under the proposals approved by Secretary Davis the artillery class, whose practice was interfered with by vehicular traffic across this road, will be sent to Virginia next summer and be divided into thirds for three periods of about five days each. While one-third has practice with anti-aircraft and coast artillery guns at Fort Monroe, another will be engaged in air corps instruction at Langley Field and the other will have field artillery practice at Fort Eustis.

College President Talks to Rotary

Growth and Development of St. Stephen's College at Annandale Interestingly Told by Dr. Bell.

Dr. B. I. Bell was the speaker of the day at the regular meeting of the Rotary Club. Dr. Bell is the president of St. Stephen's College and gave to the Rotarians an interesting account of the beginning, growth and development of the college.

Most residents of this section of the Hudson Valley are not really aware that they have a Grade A college at their very door. In fact, it is the only men's college in an area of 150 square miles.

Besides the development of a physical property, the college is a pioneer in the manner of education. At St. Stephen's the men are helped to dig out for themselves the facts, rather than having some professor lecture while the students swallow the information. They feel that there is really no education except self education, and as a result all the work of the students is done on that basis.

The faculty is composed of men who not only have taught in some other college, but are men doing actual research in their own lines at the present time.

During the last eight years, under the leadership of such men as Haley Piske and Alanson B. Houghton, the college has made great strides forward. It is no longer an ecclesiastical-controlled institution but a college where all creeds have a part in its management and where there is no race or religious prejudice among the students.

Old Place Names In Harriman Park

Conservation of Place Names Being Carried Out in Addition to Conservation of Scenery, Fauna and Flora—Names Come From Many Sources.

Among the various forms of conservation in the Harriman State Park, the largest division of the Palisades Interstate Park, in the Highlands of the Hudson and the northern Ramapo Mountains, conservation of scenery, of fauna and flora and of wide areas for all the year around outdoor recreation and nature, no small contribution to the conservation of the things that should be saved for the enjoyment of mankind is the rescue from disuse and oblivion and the permanent preservation of the picturesque and significant old place names.

Many of these names which were omitted on the Schunemunk and Ramapo topographic sheets covering the region, surveyed and published twenty-five years ago were removed from local usage and tradition and placed on the trail map of the Harriman Park, surveyed by Major W. A. Welch, general manager and chief engineer of the preserve, and published by the commission in 1922. And these, and others, are to be given permanent federal sanction by their inclusion on the revised Schunemunk and Ramapo sheets, and on the five-inch-to-the-mile maps which will be published in 1928, as a result of a new and intensive survey, made jointly by the commission, the New York State Engineer and the United States Geological Survey, and now being completed.

Names of mountains, lakes, streams, swamps, old roads, trails, iron mines, caves, cliffs, gorges, and other topographic and cultural features of these regions have been taken from a variety of sources. Very few are original Indian names, but the Indian names like Tiorati, Kanawake, Sebago, Nawahant, Cohasset and Stahable applied to the new artificially constructed lakes, are Algonquin derivatives with meanings applicable to the appearance or character of these water bodies.

Some Dutch Names.

Many names are from the old Dutch, Welsh, English and Cornish families who first settled in the Highlands. The oldest are Dutch, applied to objects in the landscape as seen from the Hudson river, for the Dutch did not fancy the rugged Highlands, and after they settled the smooth Rockland county region, moved on north through the Hudson gorge to similar smooth lands about Newburgh and Poughkeepsie. Dunderberg, the western pillar of the Southern Gate of the Highlands, is unmistakably Dutch for "Thunder Mountain." Dunderberg, applied to the hill back of Tomkins Cove and also to a western summit of the Dunderberg, are likewise Dutch. Washington Irving derived Anthony's Nose, from the gigantic proboscis of old Anthony Van Corleir, but Irving's history is not always authentic; sometimes he "kidded" the old Knickerbockers a little, and there may be doubt of that derivation.

Doodletown, the hamlet between Bear Mountain and Dunderberg, sounds Dutch in its first syllable, although there is a yarn that derives it from a picturesque but unauthenticated incident of the assault by Sir Henry Clinton upon Forts Clinton and Montgomery in October, 1777, to the effect that the British sifers played "Yankee Doodle". In marching through the hamlet and the glibbing neighbors of the community gave it the name. But General George Clinton knew it by that name on the day of the battle and records that he sent a company there, from the fort to discover the British force, so probably it is older.

Two names of summits within sight of the river and the old Dutch sloop captains, which sound as if given by them, are the Timp, the cliff at the west end of the Dunderberg, and Pnygyp, another cliff, on the north side of Cedar Pond Brook, about three miles west of Stony Point. Cornelius C. Vermeule, an engineer, of East Orange, N. J., who has written interestingly of early place names in New Jersey, in the Proceedings of the New Jersey Historical Society, deriving many supposed Indian names from early Dutch word combinations, has given accounts of Timp and Pnygyp with similar origin. "Timpje", he says, still survives in Holland and means a roll, or bun, being a derivative of an older word, "Timp". The long level top of the Dunderberg ending abruptly on the west at the Timp cliff, might be likened to a long loaf of bread, or a roll by some Dutch skipper with a whimsical humor, seeing it from the broad Tappan Sea.

As for "Pnygyp" Mr. Vermeule says it is unquestionably the Dutch word "pynclip", meaning literally the swing of the boom when a sailing vessel gibes. Figuratively, in Dutch, it meant the swing of fortune, and was often so used. He suggests that if the mountain was in sight of a point in the river where it was customary to gibe in sailing, or close to the river, its name came from a real swing of the boom, or it might have been connected with some important "swing in the fortunes" of an early settler, since the Dutch, who had a sense of humor, bantered those who had settled on the Hudson frontiers. It is indeed true that the Pnygyp cliff might have served as a marker for a sloop captain, tacking across the Tappan Sea from Croton Point, to gibe back again, as he neared the shore between Grassy and Stony Points.

Welsh and English Names.

Welsh and English place names date from about 1730, when the iron mines were opened in the Highlands, and men of these races came over to dig and smelt the ore. Such are names like Cornell, Caldwell, Jones, Smith, Conklin, Bradley, Lindley, Stockbridge and Rider. These are found in the interior, but with them are some German names, like that of Baron Hassenclaver, who owned one of the earliest mines south of Lake Tiorati and built a little Pittsburgh there; and perhaps the Hagskampfs whose names, from a line of mines they opened, is now given to a high mountain ridge. Little Kille Mountain, on the south-eastern border of the park, above Ladsdown, undoubtedly derives from some old lime burning industry, based as the limestone conglomerates along Mahwah Creek. Horse Chuck Mountain, north of Ladsdown, is yet unexplained, unless it was so steep that the horses hanging loose off it had to be helped by "chucking" the cart wheels. Names of wild animals, like Catamount, and Panther, and of Bear Mountain itself, above the park headquarters, have their origin, no doubt, in tales of early hunters.

Lettermuck Mountain is an interesting name; tradition says there was once some unrecorded lettering on the ledge near its summit, whether Indian pictographs, or some appearance of veins in the rock, may now only be guessed. Fingerboard Mountain had no name, but was given this title because of an old fingerboard sign, at the fork of the Fort Montgomery and Arden Valley Roads at its north end.

Other Mountain Names.

Horsestable Mountain has been connected with Claudius Smith and his Revolutionary guerrilla band, which hid stolen horses in rock shelters in the Ramapos. Rock House Mountain, east of the Boy Scout camps on the Kanawake Lakes, has a cave on its south end. Tom Jones, Nat House and Parker Cabin Mountains take their names from long vanished cabins of early settlers and miners. Pound Swamp Mountain, back of Stony Point, and Horse Pond (or Pound) Mountain, overhanging Tuxedo on the east, are perhaps from pounds or inclosures for cattle left out in the woods.

Popolpen is one of the most picturesque names in the Harriman Park, applied to the creek entering the Hudson just north of Bear Mountain and rising in a pond of the same name six miles west. It appears on Revolutionary maps as "Peoplop's Kill", and is perhaps Dutch, since the sloop skippers found its mouth a safe shelter.

Eleanor Gunn on Fashions

The Stout Woman Should Take Advantage of the Opportunity to Lengthen Her Skirts and Elongate Her Neck-Lines

New York—There does not seem to be a great difference in skirt lengths, after all. To be sure, knees are taboo, but except in the very young, they were not favorably regarded at any time. Large women will find it to their interest to take advantage of the extra inch or two allowed, for inches have a way of shortening the form.

There are many things about current fashions that are kindly to the stout. There is, for example, the surplus line, with its attenuated V, and there is the uneven hem-line, as well as the side drape. There is also the cape, a feature played up by a prominent importer for spring, and there is the small, close-fitting hat. It is conceded, of course, that wide brims are not in the best position.

Flared Outlines in Fall Fashions

Uneven Hemlines and Unusual Necklines Prominent in Autumn Models.

In entering upon new seasons the outstanding features are naturally stressed. Each year the tendency is to exhibit either a decidedly new silhouette, fabric of fashion idea that will be a complete departure from previous years. Other seasons will feature sports tendencies in dress for all occasions, while still others will show the purely feminine mode dominant.

Among the autumn dress tendencies that are certain to attain prominence are the flared outlines secured by several new means, the uneven hemline, which will have marked popularity, judging by models, and unusual necklines. The tendency to have all frocks designed along sports lines—so evident during the summer season—will be obscured by the definite inclination toward more formal silhouettes.

The new dresses are feminine in the extreme in their general aspect. But this femininity does not permit an abundance of trimmings and flourishes. The day is entirely past that could exhibit a marked degree of trimmings, even though the masculine type of gown is no longer seen.

The hemline, while still uneven, will not change materially in its length. It could not very well be shorter, and there seems little likelihood of it creeping down much—except in certain types of dresses that demand for harmony a longer skirt.

hoo of it creeping down much—except in certain types of dresses that demand for harmony a longer skirt. Maria Corda, motion picture actress featured in "The Private Life of Helen of Troy," who dresses to best advantage her type of loveliness, has selected an interesting costume for fall. It is of beige georgette with peasant braiding featured on the sleeves. The loose blouse has many knife plaits set on a deep yoke of self-material. The bloused effect is obtained by a belt of grosgrain ribbon in the tones used in the sleeve embroidery.

Mice to Yield Skin to Vie With Serpent Hide

Skins of field mice may take rank with serpent skins and the hide of the lizard among adjuncts to feminine beauty if agriculturists in certain parts of France have their way.

Plagued by an abnormal visitation of the pests, they have written style creators in Paris to see what they can do about popularizing leather made of mouse hide.

Field rats, larger than mice, have almost disappeared from Hungary since leather finishers found a means of using their skins for box coverings and in making shoes, the agriculturists pointed out.

Black Lace Theater Hat Is Very Close Fitting

So few people want a woman to wear a hat at a theater that most of them are obsessed with a desire to do so. They say they are becoming, which is true, and that every woman has her type and owes it to herself to enhance it by a hat, which is also true. However, nobody could object to the hat designed for evening wear by a noted French milliner, even at a theater. It is black lace, very close fitting, of the turban type, with a rose tucked over either ear.

Waists

Few women have a waist any more. Those who have not are beginning to cultivate one or seeking the correct flatterers. Evening frocks undoubtedly stress the waistline and while they do not aim at the wasp-waisted effects of the golden twenties, a distinct slimness between hips and bust is desirable.

Grayish Tans Popular

Paris shoe styles favor increasingly the combination of leathers and the addition of reptile trimmings.

The Good in Affliction

The truly great and good, in affliction, bear a countenance more princely than they are wont; for it is the palm tree of the highest hearts, like the palm tree, to strive most upwards when it is most burdened—Philip Sidney.

The KITCHEN CABINET

Oh, for a book and a shady nook! Either indoors or out! With green leaves whispering overhead. Or the street cryers all about. Where I wait read all day at my ease. For both the news and the old: For a jolly good book whereon to looke. Is better to me than gold.

SEASONABLE REMINDERS

This is the time of year when we dispose of the things we do not need and which add to our labor or discomfort, by needing care.

A small garden, even a few square feet, will bring to the table the crisp and tender lettuce—so good for us to eat, the rose succulent radish and green onion, all with very little care and labor.

Save all bits of leftover paraffin from jelly glasses. When well washed it may be used again for another season of jelly.

Those who still use the old-fashioned irons will find a piece of paraffin a great help in keeping the irons smooth and free from rust.

It is wise to remember, when the berry season is on, that fruit picked after a rain will not jelly and loses much of its flavor.

Fruit for jelly making should not be too ripe. The pectin which thickens the jelly is found in larger quantities in unripe fruit. Pectin is the thickening agent which makes jelly jelly.

Some fruits have more pectin than others. Apple is always a good fruit to add to those fruits lacking in pectin. Strawberries do not make good jelly alone, but added to apple juice or a commercial pectin, are most desirable in a jelly.

Keep a cork on the spindle in your desk. It may save a scratch or an eye.

Any green vegetable while cooking is of better color if kept uncovered. Lettuce that has become too old to serve as fresh lettuce makes fine greens, cooked.

The uncooked stems of fresh mushrooms cut fine and served with almonds on lettuce with a good dressing make a fine salad.

Save meat and gather the delicious mushrooms now until frost in the fall; they will be found in fields, woods and pastures.

Grid Classics On Eastern Fields

Notre Dame-Army, Princeton-Yale, Brown-Harvard and Dartmouth-Cornell—Leading Eastern Grid Games on Saturday.

New York, Nov. 9 (AP).—Traditional rivalry runs strongly on the eastern collegiate football calendar this Saturday as old rivals meet once again in classics bringing together Notre Dame and Army, Princeton and Yale, Brown and Harvard, and Dartmouth and Cornell.

Strategy promises to be a great factor as Wizard Rockne comes east with an undefeated South Bend aggregation at Yankee Stadium for the foremost of intersectional battles. On past performances, Notre Dame appears to have an edge over the cadets but West Point has a powerful line to cope with the strong interference boasted by the Rockne eleven.

Army has a veteran team and Notre Dame will find some worthy foemen in Harbold and Bora, versatile ends. The cadets will find some ability and hard-plunging men in Niemie and Flannigan, who are the center of Notre Dame's offense.

Although deprived of the services of Bruce Caldwell through ineligibility caused by his playing on a freshman team at Brown in 1923, Yale is pitching up its machine with Garvey and Hammersley alternating at left halfback. The latter is a punting specialist. The Bull Dog has a great offensive in its forward passing attack. In the Maryland game, six out of eight passes were completed.

With a list of six victories and no defeats, Princeton looks to the role of standard bearer of the east. In fifty years of rivalry, the Tigers have never defeated Eli more than twice in succession but they have hopes of accomplishing that feat this season. Princeton set back Yale twice in a row only on three occasions.

Princeton is by no means an over-rated team. The line averages 132 pounds per man. Mosser, Stinson and Lawler are a spirited set of ends while in the backfield, Baruch is a kicking, passing and running threat. Wittmer, Miles and Norman make up a powerful array of back talent. Brown which has been off color all

Industrial Cou t League Meeting

Considerable interest has been shown by young men here in the formation of an Industrial Basketball League. Application has been made to the Y. M. C. A. to sponsor the league and this organization has consented. It is felt that Kingston should have such a league as cities much smaller have already started to play basketball as a sport among the industries. A meeting will be held tonight at the Y. M. C. A. at 7:30 promptly to make preparations for the league.

There will be no delay in starting the meeting and representatives of industries who expect to enter teams in the league are requested to be on hand early. The league will be open to all industries or institutions interested, whose representatives will be able to get all information concerning the league at the meeting tonight.

The Y. M. C. A. ever ready to sponsor any sport for the welfare of young men, physically, mentally and morally, has made preparation so that games may be played two nights during the week. The schedule of the organization will be complete when the league has been formed. It is essential that all preparations be made tonight for if the league is not started immediately some other activity will have to be put on the schedule to fill the nights left open for the games.

season, has an opportunity of partially redeeming its standing. Last year, the Bruins bowled over Harvard 21 to 0 and despite the fact that most of the veterans are on the eleven once more thus far they have appeared unable to find their stride. Crosby, a triple threat man, may be lost to Harvard on Saturday because of a leg injury from the Penn game.

Cornell upset Dartmouth by a single point margin in their fray last year, 24 to 23, but the Ithacans have not been shaping out impressively. On the basis of Cornell's 5 to 6 tie with St. Bonaventure last week, the Hanoverians have been installed favorites.

Volley Ball Teams Hold Practice

Kingston Y. M. C. A. Team Getting in Shape for Coming Season—Albany to Play Here Saturday.

The Kingston Volley Ball Club held a regular practice Tuesday night and 15 men reported for try outs. The squad was divided into three teams and regular games were played in tournament style. The first team lined up with Dolson, Brown, Longendyke, Scott, Hendrickson, Young, Fleming and Glendening. Team No. 2 had DeGraf, Skufeldt, Scott, Finley, Wolfersing and Hinds to uphold their colors and some real good plays were made on both sides of the net.

The first game between teams No. 1 and No. 2 was close all the way with Dolson and Craig playing hard on one side while Longendyke and Hendrickson equalled their attempts on the other side. The boosting on both sides was apparently quite weak. The long hard drives at the back line were not returned to the netman in such a way that he could put them up for a sure kill. Special effort must be made in the boosting department to round out a good team for the game Saturday against Albany.

The second game between teams No. 2 and No. 3 again emphasized the need of good boosting. Team No. 3, especially was quite weak in this department of play. DeGraf and Scott managed to corral a few points by quick head work and taking advantage of every available break.

The local players will have the first chance of the season to show their strength against an outside team when they snap up against Albany Saturday. The game will be called at 5 p. m. and promise to be a real hard-fought contest. Kingston has never downed Albany in volleyball and the locals hope to register their first victory over the capital district players Saturday. All fans of the game are invited to witness the game. No charge of admission will be made.

Gene Tunney Is Peeved at Rickard

Because of Stories of Rickard's Connection With Dempsey—Gene Will Fight at Least Twice During 1928.

New York, Nov. 10 (AP).—Gene Tunney is "slightly peeved" at Tex Rickard and is certain to cause "quite a rumpus" when he gets back to town.

That and no more would Billy Gibson, manager of the Heavyweight champion of the world say, today in the absence of his warrior, now spending a few days "roughing it" on Harquette Lake, Old Forge, N. Y. The aroused mental state of the champion has been caused, Gibson explained, by tales reaching Tunney's ears that Rickard is the "under cover" manager of Jack Dempsey, whom Tunney whipped for the title at Philadelphia last year and trounced again in defending the crown at Chicago this fall.

Jack Kearns, in his suit for $325, 333.33 against the former champion, will allege that the promoter of the last two title battles has handled Dempsey's affairs for almost two years, he has announced. Other sources maintain that Leo P. Flynn, who managed Dempsey during the latter's comeback attempt did so under the direction of Rickard.

"Gene will fight at least twice in 1928," Gibson said, "but not necessarily for Rickard both times. There has been no break between Tunney and the promoter, but I do know that the stories going around concerning Rickard's connection with Dempsey, Jack's order for stock in Madison Square Garden hasn't helped matters any either."

"Tunney is bound by contract to fight once for Rickard in 1928. He feels, however, that one battle a year is not enough toward keeping away 'ring rust' and is certain that the knockdown Dempsey scored in the seventh round at Chicago never would have happened if he had been fighting oftener."

"Of course I have no idea where Tunney's second match next year will take place. We have offers, backed by reputable sporting men, from both Chicago and Philadelphia. Gene may take one or both of them but that will not be decided for some time to come."

Chicago Promoter Talks.

Chicago, Nov. 10 (AP).—Promoter James C. Sullivan is planning to confer

Albany Expects To Have Riconda

The Metropolitan Basketball League seasons in Albany will open tonight when the Albany club will meet Kingston on the court at the Tenth Infantry armory at Washington avenue and Park street.

Albany's lineup for tonight's contest is indefinite. Harry Riconda, one of the best and highest paid professional basketball players in the east, may be with the Senators, but Manager Tom Dolan last night was not certain he would have the services of the star.

Riconda was awarded to the Albany club by league officials more than a week ago, but there has been some hitch since and Riconda may not be able to play with the Senators. Owner Trim McKinstry expects definite word from the star by noon today and is making every effort to have him in the opening lineup, he said last night.

Bergkamp and Cooney will be at the guard positions tonight, Manager Dolan announced, with Grimstead at center. Collins will play one of the forward positions with Riconda as a running mate if Harry is available. McKinstry, Albee and Sedran also will be available.—Albany Knickerbocker Press.

Joe Vosdick To Work Out at Armory.

Joe Vosdick has returned from New York city, where he has been in training at Lon Stillman's gym for his fight with Jack Reed of Newburgh, which was slated for tonight. The bout, however, has been postponed to a later date. Vosdick is in the pink of condition and will do light workouts at the Kingston armory. He will return to New York some time next week and resume training at Stillman's.

soon with Gene Tunney, heavyweight champion, regarding Tunney's possible appearance in Chicago in defense of his title next summer. He will leave for the eastern metropolis tomorrow.

The Chicago promoter said Tunney was not under contract to Tex Rickard and that he was a free agent, following a long distance telephone conversation with Billy Gibson, Tunney's manager. He obtained the champion's promise to fight here during a conference after the Tunney-Dempsey fight last fall.

Kingston Noses Out Catskill

Local Metropolitan League Quinets Wins Opening Game From Catskill. 21-20—Harry Riconda Stars for Locals.

In a frenzied clash where a few extra minutes would have been as welcome with Lou White's players as an extra slice of the gate receipts, Frank Morgenweck's quintet opened the Metropolitan League at the armory Wednesday night with a 21-20 win over Catskill. This initial match attracted a huge crowd to the big drill-club by league officials more than a week ago, but there has been some hitch since and Riconda may not be able to play with the Senators. Owner Trim McKinstry expects definite word from the star by noon today and is making every effort to have him in the opening lineup, he said last night.

Bergkamp and Cooney will be at the guard positions tonight, Manager Dolan announced, with Grimstead at center. Collins will play one of the forward positions with Riconda as a running mate if Harry is available. McKinstry, Albee and Sedran also will be available.—Albany Knickerbocker Press.

With eleven minutes to go, Lou White's outfit was leading by one point. Directly after a time out, Tony Calland, the Catskill whirlwind, drove Catskill two more points forward with a clean two-pointer. Knothe came back with another double and followed with a foul tally to tie the score at nineteen all. Then there was seven minutes to play. Williams dropped in a single for Catskill giving them a slight advantage. With but three minutes to play, Knothe dropped in a two-pointer for Kingston for the last score of the game, giving the locals the upper hand in a 21-20 tally. The Catskill crowd tried hard to get possession of the ball in the last few minutes but was unsuccessful, except for brief periods. However, with but a half minute to go, Tony Calland took a long distant shot at the basket, the ball striking the edge of the rim and jumping out in a lucky break for the Kingstonians.

Morgenweck and Husta sent a strong line-up against the up-state team. Riconda and Knothe were in the forward berths, Frank at center and Husta and Yerkes in the back court. Strokey went in the game in the second half in place of Yerkes. Strokey and Kintzing, who were also on the sidelines, were both making their first appearance in the big show. Strokey proved his worth in the second half when he dropped in a deuce for his teammates.

Riconda Stars.

Harry Riconda was in true form in this opening encounter for in the first half he made practically all of Kingston's total as well as being the leading point gatherer for the locals. Riconda made one field and eight fouls. Knothe was second in the scoring for the Kingstonians with a total of two fields and three fouls for seven markers.

Lou White's main gun was the dark-haired Tony Calland. Tony was the leading scorer of the game with eleven points. Tony accounted for ten of his evening's score on deuces. He was by far the most dangerous man in Lou White's outfit and almost was successful in reversing the outcome in the last half minute when he captured the leather and shot it for the basket, missing the shot by but a slight margin. Tony's mate up front was Willie McDonald. Pete Eggers jumped center for Catskill while Joe Dryfus and Buck Williams made up the back court.

Buck Williams was an important factor in Catskill guarding, for the short, husky guard would often break up Kingston's passwork and rush down the floor with the leather. Williams made three singles for his outfit.

Catskill came through at half time on the upper end of a 13-10 score. At the start of the second half Catskill leaped ahead four or five points, but after the time was half expired, the Kingston sharpshooters broke out and soon ate up this lead.

Riconda made the first tally of three game on a foul. Then Tony Calland immediately demonstrated the part he was going to take in the evening's affair with a lightning double. Riconda retaliated with his single deuce of the evening which was followed by a campaign of foul shooting by both contingents. Calland broke away for two more deuces the first half while Dryfus also contributed one, giving the up-staters the upper hand at half time.

PAY-ROLL WORRY FOR YANK OWNER

Ruppert's Pocketbook Likely to Be Hard Hit.

After refunding approximately $170,000 to world's series ticket purchasers anticipating more than four games, the best financial worry for the New York Yankees seems likely to be the 1928 pay roll.

Contracts for next season won't be sent out for some months, but there is already the prospect that, as a result of the startling performances of most of its stars, the American league champions will be obliged to "raise the ante" for the coming campaign. The pay roll of Col. Jacob Ruppert's athletes already is the highest in baseball, estimated to be anywhere from $250,000 to $300,000 for the past season.

The highest salaried individual, the well-known Mr. Ruth, already is under contract for next season as well as 1929 at an annual figure of $70,000. In view of the Babe's record-breaking home-run streak during the regular season and his great work in the series, observers believe Colonel Ruppert made no mistake when he signed his ace to a three-year agreement calling for $210,000. The Babe had asked for $100,000 for 1927 and subsequent developments indicated he was worth probably that much.

Wiley Moore, the Oklahoma farmer and master of the "sinker ball," already had his salary doubled. It is said. Reports have it that Wiley, who signed for only $2,500 this year, his first in the big leagues, later mentioned the subject of a raise to Manager Miller Huggins. After the matter had been referred to Colonel Ruppert, Moore was advised he would get $5,000 for 1927. He now stands to get another boost for 1928.

Mark Koenig, Lou Gehrig, Tony Lazzeri and Earl Combe, young stars, who all added luster to their records this year, seem in line for salary increases, as well as George Sigmund, brilliant young right handed pitcher, who rivaled the veteran Herb Pennock for series twirling honors.

THEY HEAR THE RATTLE OF THE CAN

Bob O'Farrell (with bat), has been deposed as manager of the St. Louis Nationals, and Stuffy McInnis (inset), has been released as pilot of the Philadelphia Nationals. Both men saw but one year's service on the job before getting rehired.

NEW PALTZ NORMAL TO PLAY MILLBROOK

The New Paltz Normal quintet will open its season Friday night on its home court with Millbrook. Captain Masterson and his warriors have been practicing for the past month and are in condition for their initial battle Friday night.

This season New Paltz has several of last season's regulars which will no doubt give them as strong a team as other years. The schoolmasters have completed a season's schedule and have booked all formidable teams. Next week the schoolmasters will play Bradon Hall at New Paltz.

Ancient Eagle

A wooden eagle, fashioned in 1830, was perched over the Woodstock (Vermont) Inn for 98 years. That it might view the end of its century with pride, it was taken down and regilded, even put back for another vigil.

Records Hold No Thrill for These Big Players

Following are a few players who wished baseball records were not printed:

Walter Gerber, St. Louis Browns, who is the weakest hitting regular in the American league. He batted .224.
Barnabee, of Chicago White Sox, last in the pitching column with five defeats and no victories.

Wingard, of St. Louis Browns, and Wingfield, of Boston, who ranked next to Barnabee, Wingard winning two out of 16 and Wingfield one out of eight games.

Friberg, of Philadelphia Nationals, who is the poorest batting regular in the National league with .224.

"Slim" Harries, of the Boston Red Sox, and Scott, of the Phillies, who lost the most games in their league. Harries leading the American league with 21 defeats, and Scott the National league with 20 set backs.

Cast for High School Drama

The Kingston High School Association is planning to present a play to the public on Friday, November 18, at 8 o'clock.

The play chosen for this year's presentation is "William of the Mill," a four act American comedy drama "Streetheart." This play was a hit on Broadway, New York, for a number of years and several noted movie stars and prominent parts of the play.

The part of Strongheart, an Italian lad who is brought east and educated along with man's intellectual and social life, is more commonly called Strongheart by his classmates. This part is very effectively played by Hermina Schoonmaker.

Miss Anne Byrne, the director of the play, has whittled the cast into shape and only a few additional touches are needed to complete the play.

Tickets are on sale by any member of the cast or they may be procured at the high school. All seats are reserved and reserved seats may be obtained at the Y. M. C. A. November 15, 17 or 18.

The following is the complete cast in the order of appearance:

RED CROSS FLOOD RELIEF IN SOUTH COSTS $17,000,000

Greatest Disaster of History but One of 111 Operations in Year of Calamity.

Tornadoes headed the list of disasters which struck the United States in the past year, the report of Red Cross relief operations for the year ending June 30, showing 23 great storms. Floods were second on the list, 24 being recorded for the same period.

This record does not include the St. Louis tornado which occurred in the current fiscal year, as did a number of other storms and disasters since, in which the Red Cross provided relief.

Included in the list of 111 disasters covered by the record of the past year's relief operations of the Red Cross, are earthquakes, explosions, mine disasters, a cloudburst, a hail storm, fires, floods, hurricanes, a railroad wreck, a scarlet fever epidemic, typhoid epidemic, tornadoes, and a typhoon. The latter occurred in the Philippines, but is included in the operations at home. In all, the Red Cross extended its services in 77 major disasters in the United States and in 23 abroad, including a hurricane over Havana, Cuba, and the Isle of Pines, one in the Bahamas, and others through various West Indian regions, fire in Porto Rico, another in Haiti, earthquakes in Armenia, Japan and Albania, floods in Jugo Slavia and Mexico.

The organization conducted refugee relief operations in Syria, Bulgaria and China, the latter largely due to factional wars fought over various parts of China the past year.

The two outstanding disasters at home were the Florida hurricane and the Mississippi Valley flood. Rehabilitation operations of the latter disaster are still in progress under the Red Cross. A national appeal for funds was made in both disasters, resulting in contributions for relief amounting to more than $20,000,000.

The Mississippi flood is the outstanding disaster in the whole history of the Red Cross disaster relief service. In this one catastrophe the organization raised through subscriptions by the people of the country and foreign nations approximately $17,000,000 for relief use. Aided by this fund it fed, clothed, sheltered or otherwise assisted more than 600,000 human beings, fed and cared for approximately 200,000 head of livestock and established 149 refugee camps. The flood inundated approximately 29,000 square miles and affected 174 counties in eight states. Some 330,000 homeless persons were sheltered in Red Cross camps. When the emergency was at its height the Red Cross was serving more than a million meals a day.

So vast was the work imposed on the Red Cross and allied agencies conducting rehabilitation that this phase of the flood relief task is expected to extend well into the coming year. Up to September 15, 104,441 families in the flood zone had been given rehabilitation assistance by the Red Cross, and 1,700,000 acres of flooded crop land in seven States had

Praise Not for Artist

He had set up his easel and was working away when suddenly he realized that a young woman had come to a stop behind him. "A charming landscape," she remarked. "Ah, you flatter me," said the artist modestly. "Compared with the original it is very poor stuff indeed." "It was the original I referred to," said the young woman quietly.—Boston Transcript.

Wise Blue Jay

Mrs. Kate Holden of Memphis tells Nature Magazine she was puzzled by the antics of a blue jay flying madly among the branches of a wide-spreading elm. She discovered the wise bird was taking advantage of a heavy dew the night before and busily knocking the moisture off the leaves and onto its wings, thus taking its morning bath.

Whistler Stories

A slipshod reply to the secretary of a London club where Whistler's account was past due produced this report:

"Dear Mr. Whistler: It is not a Nocturne in Purple or a Symphony in Blue and Gray we are after, but an Arrangement in Gold and Silver." The money was paid.

A certain gentleman whose portrait Whistler had painted failed to appreciate the work, and finally remarked: "After all, Mr. Whistler, you can't call that a great work of art." "Perhaps not," replied the painter, "but, then, you can't call yourself a great work of nature."—Kansas City Times.

When Lincoln was shot, for once the newsreel photographers were too late.

Countess Found Dead in Apartment

New York, Nov. 10.—Countess Blanche de Orléans, 45, wife of Count Jean de Orléans, once Belgian consul at Pittsburgh and Belgian commissioner to the United States, was found dead yesterday in her apartment in West 23rd street. Her death, attributed to heart failure, had occurred apparently Tuesday.

Heartless Garcia, Mexican prisoner executed in Sing Sing for the murder of two men in Olean, N. Y. Her analysis was made the basis for an unsuccessful appeal for the man.

Countess de Orléans was formerly Blanche McDonald of Newcomerstown, Ohio. She was married in Spain.

No Bobtails in Nature

The bureau of animal industry says that no breed of dog is actually bobtailed at birth. The old English sheepdogs of the Schipperke breed are frequently referred to as bobtailed, and a few have been born bobtailed. Usually the tail is cut so short that it gives the appearance of no tail at all.

Vagabonds, Famous Orchestra, At Victory Ball Friday Night

DON MARCOTTE.

The Vagabonds, who will furnish the music at the American Legion Victory Ball in the armory Friday night, was organized a few years ago and had a humble beginning before it finally won success and affiliated itself with the National Broadcasting Company, from whom the Legion secured its services.

Don Marcotte's first orchestra was a little "string" band of two banjos, a piano and drum. Those four pieces, with the later development of the orchestra into what is popularly known as a great stage band in New York city in musical circles, now aggregate a total of seventeen musicians.

Don has a semi-military manner while directing, his arms and body working in rhythmic unison. Every "hot" note struck is reflected in some movement of his body, and he kids the boys along all the time, seemingly dragging "everything they have" out of every piece played. His numerous little tricks make a hit with every audience he greets. No matter what type of music the orchestra is playing, and the boys play every kind imaginable. Don "gets into the picture" in each instance. The boys smile at some of his efforts, but that is part of the picture, because when you can keep a musician in a good humor you can be sure he will play his best—and you'll find the Vagabonds jazz orchestra, always smiling. Mr. Marcotte is also a pianist of fine ability.

Poisonous in Part

A word of warning: Many flowers are poisonous or semi-poisonous. Those of the daffodil, for instance, are powerfully emetic. It is not generally understood that many plants may be poisonous in one part. A striking example is the rhubarb, where only an inch or two at the top of the stem lies between the poisonous leaf and delicious fruit.

Uncommon Sense

By John Blake

"STORAGE FOR VALUABLES"

IN YOUR imagination print those letters on your forehead.

Then arrange to store nothing but valuables behind them.

The valuables are to be found in plenty. You will find them in books, in experience, in conversations with intelligent and educated people.

All you need to do that they may be transferred to the storehouse behind your forehead is to pay attention to what you hear or read—and think about it afterward.

You can, if you choose, read every letter of every word on a printed page, and not, at the end of it, remember anything you have read.

Easy reading is poor reading. Unless your brain is at work storing away what you have read, the time you spend turning the leaves is wasted.

At the end of a talk with some person who has something worth telling, spend a few minutes thinking it over. If you do that you will store some of the valuables that have been given you.

Otherwise they will be lost. Good teachers impress on pupils the importance of thinking over lessons or lectures after they have been given.

The reason that really great plays are not forgotten is that they are so impressive that you go back over them in your mind repeatedly, and at last come to remember a great deal of them.

The task of stocking the mind with things that are useful is a really difficult one—but it can be accomplished by concentration.

The alert brain will take in everything that is brought to it by the senses, and store away a good part of it for after reference.

All that education means is training the brain to remember and to consider what it cannot help seeing and hearing, and to be careful to distinguish between what is useful and what is worthless.

There is no value in painfully learning by rote things which can be readily found in reference books, or in stocking away long lists of detached information.

This makes a lumber room out of your brain, instead of a storehouse.

Somewhere in those mysterious convolutions is abundant room to put an immense amount of knowledge, and to put it where it can be got at when it is wanted.

That sort of mind makes its owner resourceful and competent through his working days, and abundantly able to get pleasure out of life when the working days are over.

What Does Your Child Want to Know?

Answered by BARBARA BOURJAILY

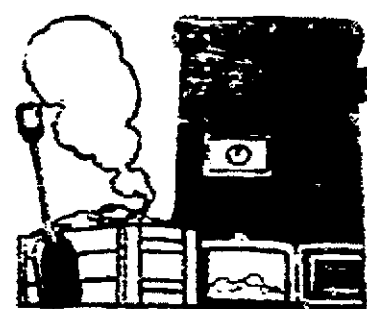

WHY IS RIPE FRUIT SWEETER THAN GREEN FRUIT?

The sun's a sugar factory. To the fruit upon the bough, And turns its acids into sweets. But we can't explain just how.

New York, Nov. 10 (AP).—The unexpectedly large increase of nearly 200 points in the market for the United States Steel Corporation shares today after an early period of irregularity. Early selling by professional traders was made on belief that the market was again in a speculative position after the recent sharp advance in many prices, but active short covering developed when strong buying orders appeared for the high grade steel and industrial shares.

The gain in steel tonnage, which was nearly double what West Street expected and the report from steel centers that small increase in input production over a week ago were being followed by practically all leading companies, brought heavy buying into the steel shares. U. S. Steel common advanced more than two points, with slightly smaller gains by a number of the independents.

Uncertainty over the dividend action to be taken by General Motors directors at this afternoon's meeting, had a tendency to restrict trading in the motors, although the increase in the Packard division and the optimistic statement by that company's president tended to create bullish enthusiasm for the motor group, but also displayed a better understanding of the uneasiness created by the discovery of a new producing area south of Scranton, and quiet action of the coppers was reported as a result of the recent stiffening of export prices for the red metal.

Warren Brothers jumped 5 1/2 points to 16 1/2 and was followed into new high ground by the American

Tobacco issues, Victor Talking Machine, International Business Machines and General Outdoor Advertising Certificates. Continental Insurance broke five points on the usual

"selling on the good news" after declaration of a 50 per cent stock division.

Ulster Again Wins Contest

Member of Gardiner Home Bureau

Left Wins $39 Cash Prize in Kitchen Improvement Contest.

Again the Ulster County Home

Bureau is the happy winner of the first prize in the State Kitchen Improvement Contest. Mrs. David Du

Bois of Forest Glen, member of the Gardiner Home Bureau, is the cap-itor of the prize this year. For two years in succession Ulster has won the first prize in the state, and in both cases the prize was awarded a Forest Glen

Home Bureau member. Last year

Mrs. Louis LeFevre was the winner.

Mrs. DuBois, accompanied by Mrs.

Raymond DuBois and Miss Evelyn

Nance, Home Bureau manager of Ulster county, was on her way today to Syracuse to attend the banquet tonight of the Farm and Home Bureau

Federation, where the prize will be awarded. The prize is given by the American Agriculturalist, and will be awarded by Henry Morganthau, Jr.,

publisher of the American Agricultur-ist.

For the county prize Mrs. DuBois was a fairly quiet size "Hot and Cold" thermometer—the gift of L.

S. Winne & Co., Wall street, Kingston.

The Kitchen Improvement Contest has aroused great interest over the state in better kitchens in the home.

It is fostered by the State Federation of Home Bureaus, whose annual meeting is now in session at Syracuse. Mrs. Edward Young of Milton, president of the State Federation, and Millard Davis, of Kerhonkson, president of the Ulster County Farm and Home Bureau Association, are also at Syracuse attending the federation meeting.

Planned City of Refuge

In 1824 an idea occurred to the late

Maj. Mordecai M. Noah, a distinguished Israelite of the city of New York, then editor of a prominent political Journal called the National Advocate, that Grand Island, in the Niagara river, would make a suitable asylum for the Jews of all nations, whereon they could establish a great city and become emancipated from the oppression bearing so heavily upon them in foreign countries. The city of Arrah, which he contemplated founding for this purpose, never developed after a series of failures and disappointments on his part.

Can You Beat It?

One of our friends dropped in the other morning.

"I'm going to tell you," he said,

"about the meanest man you ever heard of."

"Some stunt," said we.

"Listen," said he. "I was driving over town in Wednesday's rain and saw a good-looking man plodding along sans umbrella. I held up and asked him to ride. He accepted. On Congress street he said, 'I'll get out here.' I let him out. A little later

I looked back in the tonneau for the umbrella I had there. That had gone too."—Portland Evening Express.
